

and students and staff. To enhance the quality of life and wellbeing for staff and students, the University will continue to invest in its people and their development. The University will also continue to invest in its research and innovation, and in its infrastructure and facilities.

To manage our waste without endangering human health and the environment are handled, stored, treated, and disposed of in a safe and secure manner. To ensure that all waste streams are managed in a safe and secure manner, the University will continue to invest in its waste management infrastructure and facilities.

the repair and reuse of those assets capable of being deployed within the University, or resold, or gifted to external third parties.

divert 100% of organic waste from landfill, on campus.

behavioural change programs that target resource usage and consumption patterns total waste produced by 2027 against 2022

